

2018 Achievement Winners Article- Todd Bauer's

The Ward Soil Conservation District is proud to present the 2018 Conservation Achievement Award to Todd and Gerilyn Bauer. They are grain farmers located in the gooseneck of Ward county, by Kenmare. Todd and Gerilyn have implemented a minimum to no tillage conservation plan to reduce wind erosion, run-off of excess water and soil compaction. Split fertilizer has also reduced leaching of excess nutrients and has improved crop intake. Through conservation, long-term sustainability of the farm and new practices will ensure the success for future generations as well.
